

PARENTS:

The attached letter is from the instructors of the group in which your son or daughter recently participated. We hope it gives you an idea of some of the really meaningful and challenging activities in which the group engaged and some of the accomplishments in which they shared.

OUTWARD BOUND is not just another summer camp. Completing an OUTWARD BOUND course means accomplishment with aching muscles and tired feet; a night spent in a downpour; a close look at yourself when you may not want to look; a climb to the top of a ridge, just so you can come down again; a long, long run when you may not feel like it—a stab of joy when you make it. It is an experience designed to help participants discover and build upon their own potential; to understand and appreciate themselves and their fellow man. We trust that the experience has been worthwhile and discoveries made will be positive and lasting.

William H. Byrd, Director
Northwest OUTWARD BOUND School